DETAILED ACTION

Specification Objection

The specification does not contain an abstract. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The non-statutory double patenting rejection, whether of the obviousness-type or non-obviousness-type, is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985) In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a non-statutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 52-57 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-83 of US patent 6,167,428.

The subject matters claimed in the instant application are fully claimed in the patent as follows:

Present application

Patent 6,167,428

Art Unit: 2152

Claim 52: A apparatus comprising:
a firewall configured to operate
...with other computers connected
in a network;

Claim 1: ... a firewall for said
personal computer to limit access

said personal computer includes
at least two microprocessors;
said firewall configured to deny
access to at least a first
microprocessor...
said firewall configured to allow
access to at least a second
microprocessor ...
at least one of said computers
including at least two microprocessors ...
said firewall denies access by said network to at least one of
said microprocessors ...
said firewall permitting access
by the network to said slave
microprocessor.

The same rationale for double patenting applies to independent claim 55 of the present application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been

obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 58-117 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rosenberry US patent 5,349,682 and further in view of Hagersten et al. US patent 5,862,357.

As per claim 58, Rosenberry discloses a system comprising:
at least two personal computers [col.3 lines 7-28];
means for providing network services including shared computer processing to be provided to said at least two personal computers within said network [col.3 lines 29-45];
means for at least one of the computer, when idled by a personal user to be made available temporarily to provide said shared computer processing to said network [col.3 lines 50-59].

Rosenberry does not specifically disclose a firewall for denying access to a first memory hardware and permitting access to a second memory hardware.

In similar field of invention of sharing resources, Hagerstent teaches to protect local memory from access by other processing system to prevent corruption local storage. [see abstract]. Hence, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Rosenberry with a firewall to protect certain memory hardware and permit access to other memory hardware because it would have prevent unauthorized access and corruption of nonshared memory and thereby improved the security of the personal computer being used for shared processing.

As per the various limitations recited in claims 59-115, they are apparent or would have been an obvious variation from the teaching of Rosenberry as modified.

As per claims 116-117, they are rejected under similar rationale as for claim 58 above.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 52-54 and 55-57 are allowed. The prior art does not teach a firewall configured to deny access to a first microprocessor and permit access to a second microprocessor of the personal computer by other computer on the network during a shared operation.
